We regret that this Fall and Winter 1954 issue being published in April 1955 is very late but we hope to get back on schedule in July.

Commencement 1955

June 4, 5 and 6

The Sixty-Second Annual Commencement at Woman's College will be held Saturday-Monday, June 4, 5, and 6. (Schedule of events, back cover)

Alumnae Day

Saturday, June 4 is Alumnae Day with the Commencement Meeting of the Alumnae Association at 10 a.m. (Note the change in time from 2:30 p.m.) The meeting will be interesting and will be over by 12 o'clock if not before.

Miss Annie Lee Singletary, President, will preside and Reunion Classes will be recognized. Seniors will be accepted into the Association, and the reports of various committees will be heard. New officers elected by mail ballot in May will be announced.

The feature of the program will be a series of short talks by new department heads at the College, giving the Alumnae an opportunity to become acquainted with them and to hear what plans they have for the future. Miss Mereb Mossman, Dean of Instruction will introduce the speakers who will be Dr. G. Welton Marquis, Dean of the School of Music; Dr. Katherine Roberts, Dean of the School of Home Economics; Mr. Michael Casey, Head of the Drama Department; Dr. Kendon Smith, Head of the Department of Psychology; Dr. Lyda Gordon Shivers, Head of the Department of Sociology; and Dr. Victor M. Cutter, Head of the Department of Biology. An opportunity will be afforded for Alumnae interested in any particular area to discuss questions they might have with the department head.

Reunion Luncheons

The Class Reunion Luncheons have been scheduled for 12-12:30 Saturday, some at local clubs and restaurants, Home Economics Cafeteria and in the dining hall. As the News goes to press, the following classes have definitely scheduled luncheons: The Old Guard; 1905; 1910; 1915; 1920; 1925; 1930; 1935; 1940; 1945; 1950; 1954; and 1954 commercial. Advance registrations indicate a large attendance from all classes.

Alumnae Supper

The Annual Alumnae Supper will be served at six o'clock on the Elliott Hall Terrace. This is a delightful occasion when alumnae and faculty get together for a delightful supper, door prizes, music and lots of good visiting. The menu calls for turkey and ham, potato salad, a hot vegetable, hot rolls, relishes, dessert and beverage, all for only $2.00. Your reservation blanks will be sent from the Alumnae Office early in May. When you send your supper reservation, your check, if convenient, would be fine. The number of persons attending the supper has increased each year making advance reservations necessary. Tickets may also be purchased at the registration desk.

Baccalaureate

Dr. Paul Weaver, president of Lake Erie College, Painesville, Ohio, a distinguished speaker, will deliver the Baccalaureate address in Aycock Auditorium at 11 o'clock Sunday morning. The College Choir under the direction of Mr. George M. Thompson, will sing.

Faculty Reception

Seniors, parents, alumnae and friends are invited to the annual reception by the Faculty Sunday at 5 p.m. on Elliott Hall Terrace.

ville where they lived for many years she was active in civic and community affairs, serving faithfully on boards and commissions of many volunteer organizations.

She went with Mr. Hodges to Germany during World War II when he served as Chief of the Industry Division of the E.C.A. and now as the wife of the Governor she not only is his charming hostess at the Executive Mansion but her days are filled with engagements expected of a woman in her position.

The Hodges have one son, Luther, Jr., who is a student at U.N.C.; and two daughters, Betsy, Mrs. Don Bernard, of Washington State, and Nancy, who is married to Mr. John Finley, an English oil company executive in New Delhi, India.

Mrs. Hodges' two sisters are also alumnae of Woman's College, Rosa (Blakeney) Parker '16 of Albemarle, and Alice (Blakeney) Williams of '17, of Asheville.

Woman's College is proud indeed that North Carolina's gracious First Lady is Martha Blakeney Hodges of the class of 1918.

Throughout the career of her distinguished husband, Governor Luther Hodges, she has assumed her role as his partner. In Leaks-

Concert

At 8:30 p.m. Sunday, the Greensboro Orchestra under the direction of Mr. George Dickieson and the College Choir, directed by Mr. George M. Thompson, will give a concert in Aycock Auditorium. (No charge.)

Graduation

Awarding of degrees to 400 seniors Monday, June 6, will close the commencement festivities. Chancellor Graham will preside and will speak for the College; President Gordon Gray speaks for the University; and a member of the Senior Class will speak for the Class of 1955.

Housing and Meals

Alumnae will be housed in Coit, Jamison, and Hinshaw Halls at no charge. Linens are furnished by the College. Meals are available in the College Dining Hall at nominal cost or at nearby restaurants.

Guest Performances

Alumnae are particularly invited to the guest performances of the Theatre of Woman's College. They will present a different program of one-act plays Friday and Saturday nights in Aycock Auditorium. (No charge)

Registration

Registration of Alumnae will begin Friday afternoon at 4:00 o'clock and continue until 10:00, and from 9:00 to 10:00 o'clock Saturday morning. Please be sure to register. It is important to do this not only for the record, but in case a message should come for you. You may get tickets for the Alumnae Supper and the tours and your name tag and ribbon at registration.

Tours

Campus tours are planned for Saturday afternoon at 3:00 p.m. Many of the new buildings will be open so you can see the wonderful physical changes for yourself—the Library, Elliott Hall, the Nursery School, TV Station, Coleman Gymnasium, Gove Infirmary, and Home Economics Building are included. Transportation will be provided. Tickets for the tour will be available at the registration desk. (No charge)

ANNUAL FESTIVAL of ARTS

Music, drama, creative writing, art, and the dance took the spotlight in turn during the twelfth annual Woman's College Arts Festival from mid-February through March.

Professionals in the arts fields joined faculty leaders for a variety of lectures, forums, panels, demonstrations, recitals, and exhibitions. Both professional and student talent was displayed and evaluated.

Pauline Connor and Jose Limon, noted dance authorities, began the forum series with a dance program and performance in February.

Robert Sessions, distinguished contemporary composer, was the guest for the session on Music.

The writing portion of the festival in March included works of Woman's College students and others which were reviewed by a group of well known writers and critics, including Peter Taylor, Flannery O'Connor, and Randall Jarrell.

Robert Frost, outstanding American poet was a guest at the College in March to read some of his own work.

The drama portion of the Festival of the Arts introduced this year a new feature, a symposium on the "Proper Functions of the College Theater" with three well known drama leaders as guest speakers: Walter Prichard Eaton, one of the founders of the Theater Guild and for some years head of the Yale University School of Drama; Leo Brady, professor of speech and drama at Catholic University, playwright and novelist; and Norris Houghton, co-founder of the famous Phoenix Theater in New York City.

In connection with the drama festival and symposium, arrangements were made with the Carolina Dramatic Association to hold the Piedmont District Festival and the Carolina Dramatic Festival here on the same dates. High school, community, and college drama groups were invited to present examples of their work.

The Woman's College Students' Theater, directed by Michael Casey, Drama Department head gave two performances of "The House of Bernarda Alba," by Federico Garcia Lorca, with an all woman cast.

The student-faculty committee members for the Festival of the Arts are Dean Katherine Taylor, chairman, Mrs. Anne F. Carter, Michael Casey, Miss lone Grogan, Robert Humphrey, Miss Virginia Moomaw, Dr. John Opper, Miss Linda Carroll, Dr. Anna Joyce Reardon, Miss Belle Smith, and Elliot Weisgarber.

From Your Alumnae Secretary

Dear Alumnae:

I have requested termination of my services as your Alumnae Secretary effective June 30, 1955, to devote full time to my family.

You have been a wonderful group to work with and I do appreciate your support and cooperation throughout the past eight years. Your willingness to serve when called upon, your interest in the alumnae program, and your help in facilitating the plans made by your board and officers give evidence of your love for our College.

The faculty members deserve our gratitude for all the things they do. They are, of course, the College to all of us and it is they who make good Alumnae of us when we are students. As Governor Hedges said at the Gardner Dinner if we remember anything about our college years, it is the inspiration of our teachers who are our friends. They go the extra miles for us, speaking at alumnae meetings, keeping in touch with us personally, sharing our joys and sorrows and successes. The privilege of intimate association with these members of the Faculty through their extended service to you have been an incalculable inspiration to me.

I am grateful to you and to the College for the privilege of serving you as your Secretary and I look forward with much pleasure to seeing you annually at Commencement and to reading about you and your families in the Alumnae News. The friends I've made through the College and the Alumnae Association are among my most cherished possessions.

My very best wishes to you always.

Sincerely,

Betty B. Jester,
Alumnae Secretary

Dr. Frank Graham Speaks in Statesville

(Note: The following is a report by the Iredell County News of the address made by Dr. Frank P. Graham at the Iredell County Alumnae Meeting in Statesville, February 22, 1955.)

There was so much in the address it is difficult to break it down. Everybody should have an opportunity to hear it. But here are a few excerpts that particularly linger:

Dr. Graham pointed out that the world has gone through a commercial and an industrial revolution and now, in the decade in which this generation lives, it is going through an atomic revolution. An idea, become a mechanism, has made the world one independent globe. The atomic power of this revolution is the greatest potentiality for good or for evil that the world has ever known and it is only through religion, through education, through emphasis on the strongest and best in heritage and the promotion of brotherhood of man and the deepening consciousness of one God that this great power can be directed into proper channels, away from evil and destruction and toward good.

The world has faced three revolutions; it waits now for a fourth, the greatest of them all, the spiritual revolution. The human species, evolving through long ages, has faced no threat, even from roving dinosaurs of earliest civilization, as great as the threat that hangs over it in this day of enlightenment and the very urgency of the times has brought about the organization of the United Nations

Only ten years old, the United Nations, representing sixty different countries has already been given the responsibility of binding together disrupted segments of the world and into its hands have come the "hot spots" that President Truman listed during his regime some of which have already been adjusted.

In a vivid picture, Dr. Graham showed eight hundred million people of democratic ideals on one side, eight hundred million people who are totalitarians on the other side and between them an eight hundred million who stand, looking first to the East and then to the West, questioning in their hearts whether to renounce their heritage and lay hold on what totalitarianism, the police state, offers in immediate return, or to hold on in the longer struggle that offers to them through the democratic ideals, spiritual freedom and the right to share in the brotherhood that belongs to all people.

There must be, Dr. Graham said, in America, recognition of a great common spiritual force and a oneness of freedom if America is to prove to the East that looks to her that she really means her Bill of Rights. America stands as the proving ground, holding the destiny of this divided world, and the United Nations is the democratic undergirding on which the forces of freedom and of brotherhood are built.

Speaking of the things that face this world, Dr. Graham listed as one, the need for a dynamic program of equal opportunity for all youth in all states. He said that local, state and federal governments must combine their aid in the fields of education, medicine, and welfare.

He said this country must continue the fight for universal disarmament; must seek to turn atomic energy to unselfish development; and, seeing in such development the opening of new markets all over the world, must recognize an ever stronger need for just such a group as the United Nations.

He told of being at the beach during a hurricane and as the waves ran in against the beach cottage, he tried to console the maid with, "Maybe the water is subsiding," to which she replied, "Mr. Graham, it's not those three feet of water out there that worries me; it's those three thousand miles of water that's leaning up against them."

That, Dr. Graham said, is a note to the people of America. The little things, the individual incidents that alarm us should be to us, warning of the great forces that impel them. It is to these forces that America should give its thought, should direct its leadership that they be cooled off, if hot spots, that they be directed into right channels if potentials for good or ill and that they should all be brought to the knowledge that America stands as a symbol of freedom of spirit, brotherhood of man and the belief in one God.

Reviewing the work of the United Nations for the ten years of its existence, Dr. Graham urged the group to support the United Nations Program as the hope for world peace.

Art Exhibit Displayed in Elliott Hall

Ten paintings by outstanding modern artists are an exhibit by Woman's College from the Salomon R. Guggenheim Museum of New York as an extended loan group.

The paintings have been hung in Elliott Hall, the student union.

The group consists of three paintings by Paul Klee, two by Vasily Kandinsky, and one each by Albert Gleizes, Fernand Leger, George Grosz, Karl Schmidt-Rattluff, and August Herbin.

This is the second year that the Guggenheim trustees have lent Woman's College choice examples of modern art. The group will be open for public view through the rest of the college year.

Scotland County Scholarship

A check for a $50 scholarship has been received by Mrs. Kathleen Hawkins, student aid officer, from the Scotland County Alumnae Chapter. The scholarship has been awarded to Millie Coxe '58 of Wagram, daughter of Lena (Baxley) Coxe of 14, Margaret McKenzie '25 is chairman of the Scotland Chapter and Annie P. (Winborne) Shaw '32 is secretary-treasurer.

Alumnae the World Over

Shown above are Dr. and Mrs. John Clark (Mary Ann Scott '42) and their family, taken in Devon, Scotland last October. The Clarks are spending the winter in E. Lathlain, Scotland.

ANCHORAGE, Alaska—Kay Neelands '54 is living in Anchorage, Alaska, where she is an airlines hostess for Pacific Northwest.

NOME, Alaska—Louise (Fink) Bockman '46 resigned from the Alaska Department of Public Welfare last June to devote full time to her home and family.

KODIAK, Alaska—Elto Hobbs '39 is a social worker with headquarters in Kodiak, Alaska. The territory she covers includes villages on Kodiak Island, Alaska Peninsula, and the Aleutian Chain. She travels via fishing boat, mail boat, amphibious planes, and works chiefly with natives which include Aleuts, Eskimos, and Indians.

UDUVIL, Ceylon—Bunovee Farlow '54 sailed in December from N. Y. on the SS AMERICA for India and Ceylon under the American Board of Foreign Missions, Boston, Mass. She will be on the faculty of the Uduvil Girls' School in Uduvil, Ceylon, the oldest girls' boarding school in Asia founded by the American Board in 1824.

CAIRO, Egypt, September 1954.—Mary Alice (Yonn) Fox '44 is in Cairo with her husband who is doing research in lung function studies with the Naval Medical Research Unit and her two children, Betsy and John. We pass on excerpts of her letter to Miss Vera Largent:

"After a seventeen day voyage, we drove to Cairo, 120 miles across the desert from Alexandria. The desert was impressive with scattered groups of tents or single mud huts in which live the bedouins, the desert folk who wander around with camels or donkeys, living on air, I guess. Our first glimpse of Cairo was against the horizon, just after we had seen the pyramids. The panorama was just like a picture in an illustrated Bible. As we came closer, what looked like a dead, dusty place came alive with people, animals, and carts—and it became green with palm trees (many date palms).

"The Nile is at flood time now—it has been so for about 5 weeks and will be for another three or more. It is dirty rather than green, but the picturesque feluccas or antique barges (with more graceful bulls than barges) make it attractive. All along the water's edge there is unceasing activity of people cooking meals, sorting canes, feeding babies, building temporary huts of corn stalks, etc. One could look all day! Of course the people are dirty, with many bare eyes among them, but they don't seem to mind as much as we do. One sees many veiled women, and most of the women wear black dresses and black shawl-like covers over the heads and shoulders. Often a woman holds the corner of the shawl in her teeth and her baby inside, in her arms or nursing.

"Having been so well prepared for the simplicity and discomforts (and dirt) of the pension here in Maadi (a suburb of Cairo in which many Americans live), we were not too let-down and discouraged. As a matter of fact, we're comfortably situated in two adjoining rooms (one for the children); and were it not for the mosquitoes and hard beds, it would be pleasant indeed. At first the food was very interesting (stuffed egg plants and green squash, fresh guavas, mangoes, dates, etc.), but now we're ready for some of my own cooking.

"We found a very nice apartment with three bedrooms, two baths, kitchen, large dining room and large living room and two balcony-porch(es) (front and back)—for $72 a month. We have just today found a very nice 'nanny' who speaks good English and whom the children already like, and we also have found a good man to be our cook and suffragi (house-boy). He is to do most of the cooking, all the local marketing, and the cleaning. Good suffragis are very loyal and helpful, and we think we've found a good one.

"There are many very nice Americans here, and we are getting to know Egyptians and English, French, and German people. Today I made rounds with Sam and a very nice Egyptian pediatrician (female) at a big children's hospital—it was an eye-opener. I hope to be able to get a license to practice at least among the many Americans here, but if I can't, I will do some work with the World Health Organization. Egypt is the country of opportunity unlimited, as far as medical practice goes—if only they would recognize their need, lower their pride, and license foreigners!"

GERMANY—Theresa (D'Arcy) Findlay '48 writes from Augsburg, Germany. "At present, in Germany, we are due to leave next week for the States. The first two years over here I was in the Army Nurse Corps. This last year I have been very busy. I shall be glad to go back to the U.S.A. but I have enjoyed and valued the past three years.

"In addition to seeing this hospital (320th General) develop and grow from a few buildings and sixty patients to the status of the largest hospital in Europe, with an average of 600 to 700 patients, we have been able to see at least parts of many other countries than Germany, including Italy, France, Switzerland, the British Isles, Holland, Belgium, Luxembourg, Austria, and Denmark. I would like to change the old Navy slogan to—join the Army and see the world!

"Always a warm place in my heart for Woman's College."

AUGSBURG, Germany—Jacqueline (Jernison) Ammons '52 is living in Augsburg, Germany, where her husband is stationed. Her address is c/o 2nd Lt. Wm. J. Ammons 04012356, Co. C, 11th Inf., APO 112, c/o PM, New York, N. Y.

DARMSTADT, Germany—Ronie Sheffield '29 who is with the American Friends Service Committee in rehabilitation and recreation work, writes, "I'm working hard but having a wonderful experience. Have traveled over most of Western Germany, some of France and in Switzerland."

FRANKFURT, Germany—Helen (Rieby) Borum '51 left for Frankfurt, Germany, in January to join her husband who will be stationed in Europe for two years at a small radar site 90 miles northeast of Frankfurt. Lt. Borum, a graduate of the U. S. Naval Academy, was formerly stationed in Gulfport, Miss.

KAISERLAUTEN, Germany—Geraldine Fish '54 is teaching in the American Elementary School, Kaiserlauten, Germany.

GUAM—Eunice (Silman) Heilig '54 teaches the sixth grade at Wetzengel School on Guam. Her husband is in the Air Force.

HAWAII, T. H.—Helene (Schuster) Allen '40 lives in Hawaii where her husband is president of Grayline. They have two daughters: Linda 6 and Sherry Nonohani 2.

TOKYO, Japan—Bebe (Knight) Holt '36 writes: "I have been living in Tokyo, Japan, for almost a year. My husband is a Colonel in the Far East Air Force, with Headquarters here in Tokyo. We have two children, Chip, 9, and Johnny 5. We expect to be here another year before we return to the States. Our residence in a foreign country has been a most enjoyable and educational experience for most of us. We are especially fascinated with the varied Japanese arts, which include lacquerware, pottery, wood carving, woodblock prints, Kabuki drama, paintings, sculptures and ceramics, and ivory, to mention a few. The Japanese people, as a whole, have been most caring."

TRIPOLI, Libya—Elizabeth Waite '46, American Embassy, Tripoli, Libya, writes: "The last time I ran into an alumna was the fall of 1952 and I was on a train going to S. C. The alumna was Helen Sanford '46 who had been to Mexico and was on her way, after a time at home, to Central America. It was a lot of fun recalling old times and where we had been since graduation. Both of us seemed to have covered quite a bit of territory.

"In early 1947 I went out to Honolulu to visit relatives and stayed in a rest home for 4 months. When I returned to the mainland I went up to Ft. Lewis, Wash., where my father was Deputy Post Commander. Since the University of Washington was so near, it seemed a good idea to go back to school so I took a year of graduate work in English.

"Finding myself increasingly educated but increasingly poor, I came east again and went to business school in P.O. In January of 1950 I entered the Foreign Service and went to Baghdad with the U. S. Information Service. I came back to the States in '52 and unfortunately my homecoming was saddened by the death of my father. I resigned from the Foreign Service and stayed at home with my mother reentering the Service in November '53. I now find myself in Tripoli, Libya, the capital of one of the most newly-formed nations in the world. It is a lovely spot of very white buildings, palm trees, the Mediterranean at your door step and a varied cosmopolitan group of people. I will be here until the fall of 1955."

PORT LYAUTEY, Maroc—Martha Lee Irvin '54 has been assigned to the American Red Cross Center at Port Lyautey, French Morocco as a club worker.

Her assignment was announced by Robert C. Lewis, ARC Director of Operations for Europe and North Africa. This will be the first overseas assignment with the organization for Martha who joined the Red Cross in August 1954.

As a club worker in the new Red Cross supplement recreation program overseas, she will help explore and create recreational activities in Port Lyautey to provide leisure-time activities for U. S. servicemen. The Red Cross Center there is one of several at isolated spots in Europe and North Africa opened at the request of the military to increase opportunities for wholesome free-time recreation for servicemen.

BERGEN, Norway—Edna Douglas '38 is in Norway this year studying on a Fulbright Fellowship. She is on leave from Iowa State College, where she is associate professor of economics.

ASUNCION, Paraguay—Virginia (Harris) Rothman '46, her son and new daughter are in their second year in Asuncion, Paraguay, where her husband, Paul, is connected with U. S. Embassy. They plan to return to States in July.

CARACAS, Venezuela—Rame (Blackwood) Hillman '41: "We sailed from N. Y. on the SANTA ROSA Sept. 24 arriving here five days later. My husband is attached to the Army Mission here and we are all pleased with the idea of staying in one place three years.

Caracas is a fabulous city, ultra modern in every way and in view of the terrific industrial boom, it's easy to understand why there are 33,000 Americans here. The climate is ideal, ranging from 70 to 80 degrees daily, with cool nights.

"Our second daughter arrived December 2 and is quite a big girl now. Her name is Holly and she has red hair; little Rama, of course, thinks she's wonderful . . . girls seem to be in style here as there are fifteen girls and three boys in these two adjoining apartment buildings!"

MURNAU, Germany—Nonie Satterfield of '52 is with Special Services in Germany as recreation leader at the Engineer School. Her mother, Frances (Gibson) "Gibby" Satterfield '28 writes from Atlanta, Ga. that Nonie is having a wonderful experience traveling on "leave", skiing, and ice skating.

ALUMNAE IN THE NEWS

From Hy Gardner's Column "Coast To Coast" in the New York Herald Tribune: Shipping heir Michael Groce's bride (Corinne Bisette '52 WC) makes her debut in Violla Ruber's "Put Them All Together," a comedy starring Fay Bointer; must have a lot of talent—her husband has no money, just his honey in the pool.

Saturday Evening Post, February 26, 1955, pp. 132: Lyl Maie (Reynolds) Shoemaker '36 and her older husband and baby are pictured at their home in Asheville helping Carl Sandburg celebrate his 77th birthday.

From Don Bishop's Dixie All Over, November 28: "If the subject of this article, Kate Fenner Urquhart '37, Woodville, N. C., native, sells you a package of crockers or explains to you the simplicities of a sewing machine attachment, don't be surprised.

"Miss Urquhart is an account executive in the public relations department of Cunningham & Walsh, one of New York's larger advertising agencies. Fifty-one weeks a year, minus vacation, she attends to the public relations interests of several of the company's clients. The fifty-second week, as do other account executives in her agency, she becomes 'The Man from Cunningham & Walsh' and goes into a store or other place of business to meet the public face to face.

"At Woman's College, Greensboro, N. C., she was editor of the Caroliner, the student newspaper. She joined the staff of the Winston-Salem Journal as a news reporter in 1941. Later she became director of publicity and then acting general manager of the Winston-Salem Chamber of Commerce" before going to New York as an advertising executive.

In Reno, Nev., Irene (Paspisil) Bateman '39 is editor of the monthly magazine "Firstnevadon" published by the First National Bank of Nevada with headquarters in Reno. She is also secretary to the vice-president.

The Firstnevadian is a very clever, twelve page monthly house organ with a variety of material and effective cuts.

Irene received her BSSA degree in '39 and did secretarial work in New York City until her marriage to Mr. Donald Bateman, salesman, with headquarters in Reno.

The Alumnae Bookshelf

YOUR TAPE RECORDER by Robert and Mary Marshall, Greenberg $4.95. Publication April 1955.

Mary (Blair) Marshall '21 is co-author with her husband, Robert, of a book designed to help the reader get the most out of a tape recorder. Help in the selection and maintenance is given along with detailed functional information.

The book was written after more than 2500 experiments with almost every type of machine used under many and varied situations and places.

It is an unbiased guide to the proper use of a recorder to get maximum effectiveness.

Since her graduation from Woman's College, Mary has studied at the Pennsylvania Museum School of Art and Columbia University. She taught English for thirty years in Eastside High School, Paterson, N. J. and has worked with Girl Scouts, Camp Fire Girls, Girl Reserves, and in summer camps.

HOW TO START A CRAFT ROOM AND HOW TO BUILD A KILN: by Margaret (McCannell) Holt '30, Price $1.00. 32 pp. An informative pamphlet with very practical suggestions for starting a craft room and building an inexpensive electric kiln. Mr. William Ridinger, Concord, Director of Recreation says in the introduction: "This brochure presents the work of the Concord Craft Room and the Craft Committee of the Community Arts and Crafts Council. The magnificent leadership of Mrs. Margaret Holt, Mrs. Springs McCoy, Miss Mary Propst and Mr. Wesley Walker, plus the wonderful cooperation and help of their classes and patrons is a rich and thrilling story of community living at its best. Here Public Recreation has succeeded in meeting all expectations and challenges —for the Concord Craft Room is a working partnership between local government and the people within the frame of democracy and to the extent that people are helping themselves and others to make Concord a better place in which to live.

"Besides this inspiring human story is the very practical account, step by step, of the procedures necessary to plan, build, equip, organize and operate a superior craft program under any or all circumstances."

Costs, sources of supply, suggested materials are all listed for ceramics, metals, and complete craft program.

FIDDLER'S FANCY by Julio (Montgomery) Street '23, illustrated by Don Sibley, Ages 9-12. Price $2.50. When the peddler made his spring visit to their home everyone in Billy's family wanted something special from his pack. But Johnny needed glasses, and everyone knew that come first. A gay story about North Carolina mountain people in 1875. (Scheduled for June publication).

Mrs. Street lives in Winston-Salem where her husband is a leading pediatrician. She has for many years written radio scripts, dramatizations of fairy tales, children's stories, and poems. A volume of her poetry, "Street Lights" was hand-set, printed, sewed, and bound by the hand of Mrs. R. C. Hensel of Winston, several years ago. She has also done some oil painting and found time even with a son and daughter of her own, for twice a week classes with little girls whose projects were cooking, sewing, and nature study.

Since 1935 when she wrote an article for THE STATE she has been interested in having the real true picture of mountain people presented without the hill-billy touch and her book about these people promises to tell that story.

Pianist-Teacher of Note will be at W.C. in June

John Crown, head of the University of Southern California Department of Piano, will be guest artist at the Woman's College School of Music, June 13-17, it is announced by Deon Weldon Marquis.

During his week's stay at W.C. the California pianist-teacher will conduct two courses, one dealing with performance and the other with pedagogy. He will also accept private students for the week.

Born in England of American parents, Crown studied under Edward Jung in Germany and Moriz Rosenthal in Austria. He has been heard in concerts in this country, Europe, and Australia and has performed with major symphonic orchestras. He has also been active in chamber music and has made many recordings for Co-Art.

Students under Crown have won outstanding prizes and awards including the Walter Naumburg Award, the Alfred Hertz Prize of $2,500, and the Goinsboro Award of $500.

MISS PATTY SPRUILL DIED APRIL 21

Miss Patty Spruill '12, associate professor in the department of secretarial science at Woman's College for 31 years, died April 21 at the home of her brother, William Spruill, in Kinston after a long illness.

An appropriate tribute to Miss Spruill will be published in the next issue of the ALUMNAE NEWS.

Yesterday and Today

Dean Katherine Taylor's talk on student life yesterday and today at the Old Guard Luncheon last spring was enjoyed so much by this group that parts of the interesting information she used are passed on to ALMUNAE NEWS readers.

From the Student's Handbook of 1900, we find three departments listed: the Normal, Commercial, and Domestic Science. Today there are twenty-three departments and four schools at Woman's College.

There were accommodations for 350 students on the campus in 1900 and they were "under the direct care of the President, a Lady Principal, and competent lady assistants." Today 2200 girls live in the residence halls which house an average of 120 students and a full-time trained counselor is in charge of each hall.

Board was $8.00 a month then as compared to $30.00 in 1954; tuition was free to all who agreed to teach in N. C. Today, the tuition fee is $150; the literary society fee was $1.00 and the lecture-concert series less than $3.00. The $14.50 paid as a student activities fee today includes copies of the CAROLINIAN and CORADDI, a PINE NEEDLES, tickets for the lecture-entertainment series, movies, civic music, religious activities, student union activities, Y.W.C.A., and a varied program of events for every interest.

The reader finds the ads in the 1900 handbook most interesting: piano and instrumental music teachers, dressmakers, milliners, boarding places at $10.00 a month (listing the advantage of the home such as the library, piano for practice, music teacher in the house).

The good advice in the "Be Sure" list of the early manual is just as applicable today as it was at the turn of the Century. The student was cautioned

"To be on time;"

"To report promptly to school on hearing the 'long bell,'" and many will recall the frequent chapel meetings when some prominent speaker was coaxed off the train by Dr. McIver to speak to the students at this new college.

"To watch the bulletin board."

"To call on the old students for necessary help;"

"To ask all necessary and leave unasked all unnecessary questions;"

"To remember that the wants of each of 400 students cannot be attended to at once"—and today the needs of 2400 cannot be attended to at once;

"To await your turn patiently"—and with 2400 today there have to be some lines but they are avoided as far as possible;

"To be helpful and earnest;"

"To take plenty of exercise"—and today's student walking from the Coleman

Gymnasium to the Music Building figures she does;

"To remember that the advice of a friendly teacher as to the amount of work you can do is worth something"—today not only do friendly teachers advise but also class chairmen, regular faculty advisers, counselors, and student government officers help with advice along the line of overwork;

"To join the Athletic Association"—today students are required to take three years of Physical Education with educating the whole woman in mind;

"To have a pocket in your school dress"—and we wonder if the "Lost and Found Bureau" had as many wallets and bracelets and gloves and umbrellas as we do today in spite of the warning;

"To read the school catalogue through once"—a real assignment anytime;

"To begin right at school, remembering that what you make of yourself in College, you will be all your life."

As Miss Taylor concluded: "Fashions change in fifty years; human acts are unlike, but human nature and great ideals remain the same."

Return Together

Five Woman's College alumnae and Miss Edna Arundel, head of the department of Geography, returned home from Europe last summer aboard The Arosa Star, sailing from London to Quebec August 13-23. Four of the alumnae were '54 graduates: Peggy Alexander, Jane May, Martha Moore, Lata (Harrison) Johnson; and Louise Maaney '52 had also spent the summer touring Europe.

Home Economics Students Honored

Omicron Nu, national scholastic honor society for home economists has inducted six new members into the Alpha Kappa chapter at the Woman's College of U.N.C. There are three new senior members, one junior member, and two additional graduate students as a result of the recent initiation.

Seniors taken into the honorary society are Inez Kiser, Stanley; Lelo Morris, Charlotte; and Marian Hopkins, Brown Summit. Anne Peoples, junior, Pittsboro, and two graduate students, Sally Madison, Hiddenite, and Josephine Alexander, Columbus, S. C. were also inducted.

The purpose of the honorary society is to recognize superior scholarship and to promote leadership and research in the field of home economics.

Life in Johannesburg South Africa

By WILLARD GOFORTH EYBERS '20

I am relieved that I was asked to write on this subject and not on "Life in South Africa". This spares me the necessity of trying to explain our Politics and our Native Problem. If you want to know about them, and the history of South Africa in which they have their origin, you cannot do better than read Mrs. Soroh Gertrude Millin's "The People of South Africa," and Marquard's "The Peoples and Policies of South Africa," Both are excellent.

But now to my pleasant task, for living in Johannesburg is pleasant. This is the biggest city in all of Africa south of the Equator. It is not typical of South Africa, any more than New York is typical of the U.S.A. Nor is it beautiful as Cape Town and Durban are. It is cosmopolitan, and many languages are heard on its streets. In appearance it is American, and owes much of its early development to American mining engineers, of whom Herbert Hoover was one. One of its most revered pioneers is the widow of one of those engineers who has made this her home, and there are two flourishing American Women's organizations here—The Martha Washington Club, and the American Women's Association. Less than 70 years ago there was only bare veld where the city now stands. Then the richest gold mines in the world were discovered and today a string of mines run through and to the east and west of the city for approximately 100 miles, each mine with its own town, though they almost adjoin each other. Together they form the most densely settled section of the country. Mine dumps like small mountains dominate the landscape—they are our distinguishing feature—and we are inclined to think them lovely.

When visitors from overseas come here they are amazed of the modern skyscrapers, the great variety of lovely goods in our shops, and the hustle and bustle of the place. The only unique entertainment we can offer them is a trip about a mile underground into one of our world famous mines with names familiar on every stock exchange in the world, or, on a Sunday morning, to a native vor dance on one of the mine compounds—a compound being the barrack like buildings in which the migrant Africans from all over Southern Africa live when they come to work on the mines. No native mole in this large section of Africa feels himself a man unless he has worked in "Jo'burg".

Because of these many thousands of almost primitive people who are attracted here, we suffer our greatest inconvenience—one which many people find irksome. Most people bor all their doors and windows heavily—I don't—women do not go out freely alone at night. Both men and women avoid lonely parks and streets. Naturally white riff-raff is often behind much of the crime. However, those of us who live here long enough take the necessary precautions and then forget to be afraid.

By now you are no doubt wondering why life is pleasant here. Being the largest city on half the continent, it has importance for beyond that of a city its size elsewhere. Its population of all colours is 804,700. It has one of the finest airports in the world—The Jan Smuts Airport—and visitors arrive there regularly on several international airlines, including Pan-American, from all over the world. We have an excellent University, to which, up until the present African, Chinese and Indian students have had access freely, although about 95% of the students are European. (All white people here are called Europeans, even Africans!)

We have luxurious commercial theatres, in which companies from England often appear as well as occasional American and continental companies. We have our own Repertory Theatre, as well as any number of amateur groups of such quality as to be as good as professional. We also have, by the way, a National Theatre which has a season here each year. In this way we have seen work of the most modern playwrights—Eliot, Christopher, Fry, Tennessee Williams, etc., as well as many of the classics. We generally have seasons by two ballet companies, an opero season (Italian), and concerts by the greatest living musicians and singers. There are almost too many exhibitions for we have many artists. We get all the latest British and American movies, and we have one cinema that shows all the cream of French and Italian films with occasional ones from Sweden, Denmark and Russia. So you see that we have much to choose from in the way of entertainment.

Johannesburg has a wonderful climate, one of the best in the world. There is not a great variation in temperature between summer and winter, and its rainfall is higher than that of most of the rest of the country, which is on the whole very dry, like the southwest U.S.A. In winter we get approximately five months of clear, crisp rainless days. This type of climate is naturally ideal for sport, and rare is the person who does not play some outdoor game—golf, tennis, bowling, cricket, hockey, football, or swimming. Probably outside Hollywood there are not more houses with private tennis courts and swimming baths, and there are many municipal sports grounds.

The climate invites one to garden, and our gardens are colourful all the year round for sub-tropical and temperate zone flowers and fruits flourish. Though the centre and mining sections of the city are not lovely, our suburbs, nestling in among the hills and out of sight of the mines are beautiful.

There are all the usual women's organizations, and much social welfare work is done among white and black. I doubt if there are many American cities which have as wide a range of welfare agencies and institutions. Remember that in South Africa there are four black people to every white person, and that almost none of the Africans pay tax of any kind (adult moles pay 1 pound per annum) and that there are many poor white people as well. One might say that one-tenth of the population has to provide education and all amenities for the other nine-tenths. I do not believe that there is any other country in the world where this is so, and does prove the necessity of sympathetic consideration of our problems.

A recent book review in The New York Times said that "Writing was the favourite past time of South Africa" and we have indeed many writers both in English and Afrikaans, many of whom live in Johannesburg. Afrikaans is the second language of the country, and is used considerably in Johannesburg which is, however, predominately an English speaking city. If one has a foot in both English and Afrikaans speaking groups as we have, since my husband is an Afrikaans speaking South African by birth, and one tries to keep up with Afrikaans literature, plays, newspapers, etc., life is very full of interests.

Ours is not only a bilingual country but we have a multi-racial society. On our streets black people of many tribes and varying degrees of civilization are to be seen, and generally speaking they still speak their native language to each other. Of these there are three major language groups, and there is considerable friction among the tribes. As I have already indicated there are Indians, coloured people (a separate group from the Africans) and a smattering of Chinese.

Women are well integrated into the business and professional life of the city and many of them work—as a matter of fact so rapidly has Johannesburg grown that almost any woman who can teach, nurse or type is practically commended.

And what happens to home life? Fortunately we have all the electrical and other labour saving devices—even more perhaps than many American homes have—and we have servants to work the equipment! Most middle class families have two servants. They are not very good servants because they are seldom even a generation removed from a background where they slept on clay floors and cooked over wood fires, eating chiefly meat and maize, yet they adapt quickly to our way of living, and take easily to the use of all our electrical equipment. They are, however, neither very dependable nor responsible and need a great deal of supervision. In addition they are a restless folk who change work frequently, just for the sake of change. One has constantly to be training new ones. It is utter nonsense to think of them as oppressed. As to pay: a very prominent English woman, an authority on Home Economics for the International Council of Women has just spent several months with her brother here in Johannesburg. She told us that one young German girl did all her house work and that similar work here would be done by at least two servants, and the work was more indifferently done. The German girl got 8 pounds per month, while one of the two servants here got 6 pounds and the other 4 pounds per month. In addition to wages our servants get rooms on the premises, uniforms and food, as well as much discarded clothing. Husbands or wives (or friends) generally move in with them, though they are not supposed to do so, and in this way one feeds more people than one is aware of! Still the fact that servants are available does relieve one of all the drudgery and enables women to take part, as fully as they desire, in the pleasant, interesting aspects of modern life.

South Africans are inclined to feel that, because of the many thousands of miles between them and other highly developed countries, they are isolated from culture, and to compensate for this by travel. Probably for this reason more people per percentage of population travel overseas than can be found elsewhere. For instance my husband was a professor and we have been back to the U.S.A. twice, once as a part of a trip around the world visiting South America and the Far East, and the second time touring Europe by car on our way back from the U.S.A. In May we are leaving for a three months motor coach trip from Scandinavia down to Southernmost Italy, where we take ship around the East coast of Africa. We are actually conducting a group of 42 people on this trip, which we have arranged ourselves. During this time I, with approximately 17 other S.A. women, ten of whom will be in our group, will be going to Helsinki, Finland to attend the Triennial conference of the International Council of Women.

Many Americans have found in South Africa a new world in which to holiday, and are coming here in large numbers. There are many unique attractions in other parts of the country, especially our magnificent game reserves, where people are forced to stay in their cars while lions, elephants and giraffes roam freely around them. Although, as I have said, we have little to offer that is unique in Johannesburg, most visitors like the city. I was delighted to show Dr. Gertrude Cox, of the Bureau of Statistics of the University of N. C., at State College, Raleigh something of our homes and gardens when she was here a few months ago. If any of you are thinking of a trip to Africa, let me know. I would like to take charge of you in Johannesburg.

Half of Class of '54 Enter Teaching Field

A check on last June's graduates of Woman's College shows them to be the most occupationally diversified class the College has yet produced.

The tabulating was done by the College Placement Office, headed by Mrs. Josephine P. Schaeffer, which had 424 graduates registered and placed 80 per cent of them in jobs in this State.

Not surprising, 214, or over 50 per cent, of the young women have become teachers, almost the same percentage as in 1953. While teaching is listed as one field of work, there is variety here also.

There are 99 teaching in high schools, nine teach in colleges, 53 in elementary schools, 51 in primary grades, one in kindergarten, and one is a resources education teacher.

Nearly 80 per cent of the young teachers are at work in North Carolina. Some took teaching jobs teaching in states where their new husbands are in service and expect eventually to return home.

Thirty-three students have gone on to graduate schools and 39 have married and devoting themselves to homemaking.

Next to teaching, the business field has attracted most of the 1954 WC graduates, with 42 of them now in secretarial work. Ten become laboratory assistants, nine are home demonstration agents, nine are dietitians, and six each are in social casework and home economics.

One to five each are now engaged in the following fields: personnel, libraries, technical assistance, physical therapy, chemistry, advertising, recreation, radio and television, Red Cross, retailing, mathematics, Girl Scouting, Y.W.C.A., banking, analytical assistance, feature writing, fashion school, medical school, draftsmanship, religious education, airline hostess, and piano accompanist.

WC Alumna Serves in Legislature

Mrs. Grace (Taylor) Rodenbough MS '52, is one of the two women in the 1955 General Assembly of North Carolina. She represents Stokes County as a member of the House. Mrs. Rodenbough was also the only woman serving in the 1953 Assembly.

She is a member of the University Board of Trustees and is supervisor in the Stokes County Schools. She lives at "Covington," her country home in Walnut Cove.

Mrs. Ralph Fisher, the second woman, took over her husband's duties as representative when illness forced him to resign later in April.

"PRESERVED MEMORIES" of Carrie Tabor Stevens '20

Edited By Julio Montgomery Street '23

From time to time the Alumnae News brings a portrait of some Alumna, who has, we think, lived up to the college motto, "Service," in a true sense of the word. Someone who has not only been of service to her family and her Alma Mater, but has given freely of her abilities, education, her time, her means, and her energy to her community and her state.

After graduating from the then "North Carolina College for Women," in June 1920, Carrie Tabor city born and bred, betook herself, to teach Home Economics, to the small town of Council in historic Bladen county, and promptly fell in love. So, in June 1921, a farmer, Clarence E. Stevens, took a wife.

Although Carrie did not write these letters for publication, it is much easier, and far more interesting, to let her tell the story herself. Says Carrie, after thirty-four years:

"Well meaning friends and relatives gave me the comforting (?) assurance that I was going into my new life blindly, and that in six months I would be sorry I was living on a farm, and wish I were back in town. But not once in all these thirty-four years, so brief and so happy, have I wanted to return to the city to live! Truthfully I can say I am by far more happy here on our farm to-day than in those days when Clarence and I, a newly married couple, strolled hand in hand over the acres he had acquired for our little first home. At that time I was 'on the land'; now I am a part of it. Then I had contributed nothing; to-day I have given the better part of a lifetime coupled with love, and undergirded with prayer, and watered with service and affection for my neighbors about me, and now the roots of my being have grown deep into the soil that has furnished our livelihood.

"Two mottoes from my college days have been an inspiration to me through all these years . . . of happiness, heart-ache, toil and achievement . . . and have had a keen bearing on all my attitudes and labor—our college motto "Service," and our 1920 class motto, "Love, Honor, Loyalty." It has seemed to me that all times these four words include the very essence of glorious living. Needless to say that I have fallen far short of their high calling much more often than I have lived up to them, but the significance of these four words are ever present in my efforts and ambitions."

Mrs. Stevens says her first public service was heading a county-wide movement toward raising funds for Alumnae House, and "I was happy that our quota was met, in full." Through the publicity, this extensive county-wide effort brought her into the eyes of county leaders, and she was called on for first one project and then another.

As an Alumna, she represented Bladen County as a member of the Greater University Consolidated Program, and served two terms as a member of the Alumnae Board of Trustees. She has always been an active member of The Alumnae Association, has attended class reunions and in many ways has demonstrated her love for the College.

"I helped organize and held office in the first state-affiliated P.-T.A. in this county; helped organize and was president of the first Bladen county P.-T.A. council; helped organize and was a charter member of the Bladen County Welfare Board (I have it on good authority that Carrie's home was the Welfare Board long before there was any organization—Ed.) served as a member of the State Parent-Teacher Association for six years; served as a member of the Wilmington Presbyterian Board for seven years; as a member of the State Board of Home Demonstration Clubs; and was Chairman of the First National Rural Summer Roundup of Parent-Teacher work. During all this time I was actively engaged in working in local school, church, and Home Demonstration activities, caring for three growing youngsters, and sharing all my joys and heartaches with a patient and considerate husband, whose constant devotion and cooperation enabled me to put time, energy and heart into the public activities.

"From a more personal point of view, I have striven earnestly to put my family first at all times. We have had regular family outings at oceans, lakes, mountains, World Fairs, nation-wide tours, up into Canada, down into Mexico and Cuba, by car, bus, train and plane. All holidays and birthdays have been celebrated to the fullest, and every single year since our marriage, Clarence and I have observed our anniversary alone with a delightful trip."

In 1948 the Stevens family was selected as one of the nine Master Farm Families of North Carolina by the Progressive Farmer in cooperation with the N. C. Agricultural Extension Service, an honor highly coveted by farmers. Their 125 acre farm has in thirty-four years increased to several hundred acres bought with the profits from the farm itself. Their first home, destroyed by fire, has been replaced by a lovely eight room brick home, with every modern convenience, and provision for comfort and recreation. All this due to the energy, perseverance, and excellent management of a real Master Farmer.

"With all this the three children have been graduated from recognized colleges, the two girls from Queens, and the son from N. C. State . . . all are married now, with families of their own, and we are rejoicing in our grandchildren.

"Now the tempo of my life has slowed to a walking pace . . . and Clarence and I have time to share our hobbies together, reading to each other here in our home, taking trips, and entertaining our friends. The only public office I hold which requires sound thought and prayerful planning is as a member of the executive committee of the Bladen County Hospital Board of Managers, but I am still active in our local church and Home Demonstration organizations, and teach Sunday School class. We continue our reading sessions once a week in our den before a big open fire, to which all who wish may come.

"I also have time now to indulge in my own personal hobbies of trying out the recipes I have been saving up over the years . . . and sewing the many gay and colorful feed bags that accumulate on a farm into useful and sometimes beautiful garments.

"I find a great deal of satisfaction in opening a cabinet door and looking at the rows and rows of pickles, vegetables, and preserves stored there; then turning to our large deep-freeze and seeing the assortment of frozen foods and meats . . . a feeling of well-being enfolds me as a woolen stole would on a cool day. However I realize that no one else could share this to the fullest, who has not started where I started—a seed store, garden planting, cultivating, gathering, preparing, and the final steps of preserving and storing. Therefore I view our supplies of food for our bodies in solitude. Recently as I stood gazing at the evidence of many months of tedious labor and fruitful toil, I had a feeling that this was a comparison of my life down through the years since my graduation from college. Most of my activities are behind me now, but these are my preserved memories, meaningless to the world, but a great satisfaction to me in my hours of cherished solitude."

W.C. Student Receives Mexican Scholarship

Carole Altman, Newberry, S. C., a junior at the Woman's College has been awarded a Mexican Government Scholarship for an academic year of study at the National University of Mexico in Mexico City.

Miss Altman is a senior student in Spanish and Literature. She is a member of the Carolinian staff, the Spanish Club, and Sigma Delta Pi National honorary Spanish Fraternity. She planned to begin her studies in Mexico in March.

Miss Altman received one of the six scholarships for undergraduates in the United States offered each year by the Institute of International Education. The scholarship supplies major maintenance while in Mexico, and pays tuition at the school she will attend.

While taking undergraduate work in Mexico to complete her degree, she plans to do a cultural study of the country. A double major in Spanish and English, Miss Altman lacks only three hours toward graduating at the end of this semester.—News Bureau.

"Although an amateur, she is a skilled photographer," says the Buffalo Times, "and does her own processing. This photo employs a tricky but highly effective back-lighting technique."

The Simrils have three active boys and in addition to her interest in photography, Anna and her husband, Verne, who is a chemist, are do-it-yourself fans. In 1949, they bought their five-acre tract of land and all the family pitched in to build their modern, attractive home. The results of their joint efforts were featured in BETTER HOMES AND GARDENS magazine last year.

Anna is the daughter of Mrs. Bess N. Rosa of the Woman's College Home Economics Department.

Atlanta, Ga., September Meeting

The Atlanta Alumnae Chapter met the evening of Sept. 22 in the home of the president, Theo (Elliot) Taylor '48. Twenty-nine members were present and Mr. Joel Reeves of High Museum of Art, was guest speaker.

The president thanked everyone for their cooperation with the tea given in August at the home of Evelyn (Covileer) Bosh '36 to honor all Atlanta girls who were to be students at Woman's College this year. She stated that about 45 alumnae and guests were present at the tea.

Evelyn (Horne) Peabody '41 was thanked for her excellent job on publicity and current list of Alumnae in the Atlanta area were distributed to all members present.

A letter from Mrs. Kathleen Hawkins, Student Aid officer at Weman's College, was read thanking the Chapter for the contribution to the Eunice Kirkpatrick Rankin Scholarship fund.

Anne (Burnett) Townsend '40, chairman for college week advised that the Atlanta High Schools were holding college week in Nov. and explained what the representatives would have to do.

The vice president, Katherine (Palmer) Lewis '42, introduced the speaker, Mr. Joel Reeves, instructor of art at the High Museum of Art. Mr. Reeves traced the development of the various schools of paintings. He invited the members of the group to the South-eastern Art Exhibit held in October.

The meeting was adjourned and a social hour was enjoyed.

Atlanta, Ga., November Meeting

The Atlanta Alumnae Chapter met Nov. 18, in the Agnes Scott Alumnae House with Elizabeth Barineau '36 as hostess and sixteen members present.

The president, Theo (Elliot) Taylor '48 presided. Irene (Barwick) Aitmeter '26 and Nancy (Phifer) Upshaw '47 were appointed co-chairmen of the annual Fashion Show to be held in the Spring of 1955 to raise money for the Eunice Kirkpatrick Rankin Scholarship Fund. The plans will be discussed further at the meeting in January in the home of Katherine (Palmer) Lewis '42, vice president.

The program of the evening, was the recording of the Founder's Day Program held in Aycock Auditorium on October 5.

After the meeting was adjourned refreshments were served and a delightful social hour was enjoyed.

Atlanta, Ga., January Meeting

The Atlanta Alumnae Chapter met at the lovely home of Katherine (Palmer) Lewis '42 with fifteen members present on January 26. Guest speaker was Mrs. R. L. Coogle, whose subject was tape painting.

Theo (Elliot) Taylor '48, president, called the meeting to order, after which Frances (Herbison) Lane '51 stated that we have $19.10 in the savings account. Ann (Deas) Poole '53 then read the minutes of the last meeting.

The main business of the meeting was a report by Nancy (Phifer) Upshaw '47 that The Casual Corner in Buckhead would furnish the fashions for "Fashion Frolic," to be held Feb. 26. Grace Linehouse '54 and Emmalen McLead '54 were appointed chairmen of the modeling committee, as all fashions will be modeled by alumnae. Betty (Huffman) Ainsprizes, Elizabeth Barineau '36 and Mary Worth '52 was in charge of soliciting door Boney '38 helped with thank you letters.

Mary Lou (Mackie) Bryant '42, publicity chairman, reported she had secured two spots on television and radio for the purpose of advertising the fashion show, which in turn also speaks well of the Alumnae Association.

Frances (Horton) Burroughs '42 stated that 10 tickets at $1.50 each would be sent each alumna.

A letter was read from the Woman's College explaining where and how the Eunice Kirkpatrick Rankin Scholarship money was used this year.

The meeting was then turned over to the program chairman who introduced Mrs. Coogle, who showed us some wonderful examples of her art. We left the meeting to do some toiling of our own.

The meeting adjourned and a short social hour followed.

Bertie-Hertford

Developing trends in education were discussed by Mr. C. W. Phillips, Director of Public Relations, Woman's College, at a meeting of the Bertie-Hertford Alumnae on April 13 in Windsor.

The meeting was held at the Hotel Duke of Windsor with husbands of alumnae present as guests.

Mr. Phillips pointed out that changing traditions and family patterns necessitate changes in educational philosophies. Colleges and universities must meet those changes, he added.

Although Woman's College has a large enrollment and a large campus, according to Mr. Phillips, students are offered more counseling programs, more guidance and more individual attention than in the smaller colleges.

He added that Woman's College which is the largest college for women in the world is one of the few such colleges which have not in recent years become coeducational.

The fall meeting of the group, which was held in Ahsokie on October 5, Founders' Day. Clara (Bond) Bell '47, chairman of the Bertie Chapter, presided.

Columbia, S. C.

The Columbia, S. C., Chapter of the Woman's College of the U. N. C. held its first meeting of the year on October 25 at the home of Eunice (Williams) Whichard. Martha Lee (Sherrill) Matthews '45 and Beth (Parker) Clery '52 were co-hostesses. Decorations of yellow roses and yellow and white chrysanthemums carried out the color scheme suggestive of the Halloween season.

The meeting was called to order by the president who told the group about the decision of the board members to limit the meetings to three a year. The revised constitution was read and accepted. Tentative plans were made for a January meeting at which time a record of the Founder's Day program will be heard.

After reports from the various officers, the meeting was turned over to Emily Cate '26 who, in the absence of Elizabeth (Cowan) Ledeen '26 presided over a "Silent Auction" which was held to provide money for the Student Aid Fund. A total of $20 was realized.

At the conclusion of the auction, the hostesses served a Halloween appetizer, a delectable salad course, coffee and pumpkin pie with whipped cream.

The following officers were elected for the coming year:

President, Margaret (Harring) Mask '27; vice president, Mary Frances (Sutton) Sinclair '45; secretary, Sara (Anderson) McCall '31; treasurer, Emily Cate '26; and ways and means chairman, Elizabeth (Cowan) Ledeen '26.

Cumberland

A most interesting Newsletter sent to Alumnae in Cumberland County in March, included a letter from the Chairman, a message from

Chancellor Graham, History and Progress of the Scholarship Fund, a legislative report, notice of a schedule Bridge Benefit, report of a meeting in March with Dr. Lyda Gordon Shivers as speaker, and an announcement of the Spring Meeting, April 26.

Congratulations to the Cumberland County officers for a very fine job both on the Chapter as well as the Newsletter. Vera (Rackley) Jenkins '39, is chairman. Responsible for the Newsletter were: Elise (Rouse) Wilson '43, Rita (Hunter) Wade '48, and Ruby (Byrd) Campbell '32.

Durham

The Durham County Alumnae Chapter met Tuesday, November 9, at Harvey's Cafeteria with the president, Rowena (Knott) Berry '41, presiding. Mr. C. W. Phillips of Woman's College was guest speaker.

At the beginning of the business session each member presented herself, giving name, class, and present occupation. There were 34 members present. The secretary's minutes were read and approved, and the treasurer's report was given by Janet (Belvin) Ashe '34.

Jeon Dickey '44 introduced Mr. Phillips, in charge of Public Relations at Woman's College, who gave a most interesting and informative account of the changes in physical appearance of the campus and of changes in the faculty and administration.

Guilford County Alumnae Luncheon Meeting

Guilford County Alumnae Chapter had an attendance of 108 persons for the Spring Luncheon April 5 at Alumnae House. Miss Louise Alexander, acting head of the College's History Department, discussed "The Yalta Papers." Miss Nancy Souther presided.

The officers elected for a two year term include Betty Carroll (Wimbish) Warner '51, chairman; succeeding Nancy Souther '48; Nancy (Bozett) Kabrich '51, vice president; Marian Faison '54, secretary; and Billie Gene Phipps '46, treasurer.

Miss Alexander discussed the reasons for the Yalta Conference and gave the background of the world situation at the time of the big four meeting. She reviewed the main items covered by the papers as well as the sidelights, personal conversations and asides of the participants. She urged the group to consider the decisions made at Yalta in the light of the times.

The commencement chairman, Henriette (Manget) Neal '45 announced June 4-6 as commencement dates. Co-chairmen of luncheon arrangements were Betty (Greisinger) Sink '36 and Doris (Higgins) Louten '48.

Haywood

The annual dinner meeting of the Haywood County Chapter was held on Wednesday, November 10, at the Towne House, in Waynesville.

The program was presented by Grace (Albright) Stoney '23 and was a recording of the Founder's Day program held on the College campus October 5. The recordings included an address by Harry Ashmore, editor of the Little Rock, Ark., Gazette.

Jincy (Owen) Messer '34 of Canton was elected president of the group for the coming year, succeeding Anne Albright '15. Other officers are Frances (Howell) Burgin '51, vice president; Mildred Rhinehart '52, secretary; and Nancy Medford '52, treasurer.

Plans were made for a Saturday luncheon meeting to be held in the spring.

Iredell

Dr. Frank P. Graham made an interest-compelling and thought-inspiring address at the Vance Hotel in Statesville, on February 22, when he was guest speaker for the meeting of the alumnae of the Woman's College.

Chancellor Emeritus W. C. Jackson spoke a few words of greeting and other guests from Greensboro were Betty Jester, Alumnae Secretary, Miss Katherine Taylor, dean of students, Mr. Charles Adams, Librarian, Mrs. Anne Carter, counselor, Miss Julia Barrett, counselor and assistant in the placement office. Miss Marjorie Hood, head of circulation in the Library; and Mrs. Josephine Schaeffer, director of placement.

Mrs. Charles W. Tillett (Gladys Avery '15) of Charlotte, past vice president of the National Democratic Committee, was presented and also her son, Dr. Charles W. Tillett, 3rd, and his wife.

Invocation at the dinner was by Rev. N. R. McGeachy, husband of Frances Hamilton com. '30.

The meeting closed with the singing of the Woman's College Alma Mater.

The committee on arrangements for the alumnae dinner included Mrs. A. L. Mills, Jr. (Louise Aycok of '36), Mrs. R. D. Warwick (Evelyn Bryan com. '32), Mrs. Herbert Hawthorne (Jane Grier '39), and Mrs. Fred Alexander (Margaret Willis '15).

Jacksonville, Fla.,

October Meeting

The Jacksonville, Fla., Alumnae Chapter held its third meeting on October 19 in the home of Jane (Gaw) Rogland '36 with fourteen members attending, three of them present for the first time.

Our speaker for the meeting was Miss Annie Beoman, a 1902 graduate, who has made quite a name for herself here in Jacksonville, as well as elsewhere. She has recently retired, after 31 years as principal of a local high school which now bears her name. She brought us many interesting highlights, as well as sidelights, of our College when it was purely a teacher's college, the Normal and Industrial School. We found also that she knows quite a bit more about the campus now than many of us who have graduated in the past 20 years, since she has a brother living in Greensboro now and she visits there often.

Doris (Braswell) Sweetland '46 told us of her recent visit to the campus.

Our meeting was closed with a delightful social hour.

January Meeting

The Jacksonville Chapter of Woman's College Alumnae held its first meeting of the New Year on January 11 at the Roosevelt Hotel. This was a luncheon meeting with fourteen members present, five of whom were present for the first time.

We were very happy to have Mrs. McLendon (Bodie Stancell of '05), mother of Margaret McLendon '42.

At the brief business meeting after the luncheon meeting, a telephone committee was appointed by the president, Marjorie (Wyatt) Howie '46. The next meeting was planned at the home of Ann (Dees) Dees '39 on April 12.

Shown above are a group of Alumnae at a meeting in Columbia, S. C. Art Auction Nets Over $500

The Fourth Annual Weatherspoon Gallery Auction, March 30, cleared more than $500 to be used for the purchase of same original work of art for the Gallery. A variety of articles contributed by friends of the Gallery and auctioned by Dr. Richard Bardolph, of the department of history, made the auction a success and a most enjoyable occasion, according to reports.

The Weatherspoon Gallery, which perhaps already has the reputation of being the finest collection of contemporary art in the South, has among its possessions sculptures, paintings, prints, mobiles, textiles by such well-known artists as John Flanagan, John Marin, Lionel Feininger, Georges Braque, Alexander Calder, Alexander Archipenko, DeKooning and others. These are used in the teaching program that the students may actually see original works by the best contemporary artists. They are exhibited for the public, and lent to galleries in other parts of the state and of the country.

Mecklenburg

Dr. Lyda Gordon Shivers and Miss Marion Sifford of Woman's College faculty were special guests at the Mecklenburg County Chapter meeting at the Chez Monet on Nov. 10 at 6:45 for the annual dinner meeting in Charlotte.

The invocation was by Eleanor (Strong) Barkley '46. The treasurer's report was read and Betty Bullard '52 reported on the scholarship fund. Nancy Green, a graduate of Myers Park High School in the class of 1954, was chosen to receive a $50 scholarship for her outstanding scholastic record as well as her extra curricular activities.

Virginia (Alverson) Williams '40, outgoing president, welcomed the guests and members and introduced the officers for the new year. Anne (Holmes) Jones '44, president, Rae (Williams) Betts '42, vice president, Georgia (Olive) Davis '48, secretary, and Helen (Douglas) Woodside '48, treasurer, Costella (Blond) Denton '29 is social chairman.

Rae Betts introduced Dr. Lyda Gordon Shivers, head of the Sociology Department who told the group of the activities of the students and faculty members. She explained the questionnaire sent out to the Alumnae in September and the value it will be to the College. She told of the student poll taken of the evaluation of teaching. The new department heads were announced and news of some of the faculty members was given to the group.

Rae then introduced Miss Marion Sifford '53, assistant to Dean Katherine Taylor, who showed movies of the College. Beautiful scenic views of the campus and buildings, the girls in the dormitories, new offices, and various social functions highlighted the film.

The meeting was adjourned with the singing of the College Song led by Betty Bullard.

New Hanover

Chancellor Edward Kidder Graham of Woman's College was guest speaker at the New Hanover County Alumnae banquet held March 9 in the Cape Fear Hotel "Green Room" in Wilmington. A special invited guest was Dr. Graham's cousin, Mrs. E. R. Toms of Wilmington.

Dr. Graham outlined the needs and program of Woman's College and brought back many campus memories to the forty alumnae present.

Booklets of Woman's College songs were used as favors, carrying out the college colors, gold and white. This color scheme was repeated in the floral arrangement used on the speaker's table.

Peggy (McIver) Barksdale '47, chairman of the New Hanover County Alumnae chapter, introduced Dr. Graham and later led the group in singing class songs and the College Song.

Pasquotank

Mr. C. W. Phillips, director of Public Relations at Woman's College, was guest speaker at the Pasquotank Alumnae Dinner Meeting at the Virginia Dare Hotel in Elizabeth City December 1.

Beulah (Stout) Sharber '28, chairman of the chapter, reported, "Mr. Phillips was wonderful. As usual his speech was entertaining as well as enlightening. He told us about the physical changes and the changes in organization of WC. Many of the things he said brought back memories of our day there. We are all proud of WC and rejoice in its growth and improvement."

Pitt

The Pitt County Alumnae Chapter had their annual Alumnae Dinner on Monday, October 4, at 6:30 p.m. in the Winterville School lunchroom with Mrs. J. B. Kittrell, Sr. (Elizabeth Hinton '19), a member of the Board of Trustees of The University of North Carolina as guest speaker.

The center of interest, as the group gathered in the foyer of the Elementary School, was a unique bulletin board, bidding welcome to each alumna. While greetings were exchanged there, fruit punch was served.

The banquet table was decorated to carry out the College Colors, and programs were small yellow diplomas rolled and tied with white ribbon.

Blair (Cox) Wheelson com. '37 gave the invocation and Gayle (Deil) Clark '41, chairman, extended a warm welcome. Following the three-course dinner, Gertrude (Boone)

Spear '26, secretary, called the roll by location and representatives of all Pitt County towns but one were present. Rosa (Jones) Little '29 led group singing and Woman's College talent was evident.

The highlight of the program was a message to the group by Mrs. Kittrell. She brought greetings from Chancellor Edward Kidder Graham and spoke of the growth of the College and plans for the further enrichment of its curriculum. Quoting Chancellor Graham as to what Pitt County Alumnae can do for the College, Mrs. Kittrell said, "First, know your college; second, talk Woman's College; and third, see your legislators." She also spoke on behalf of Chancellor Graham that the alumnae make personal contacts with him because he longs to know them better.

A short business session with a report of Filipino Student at W.C. Having Year of "Firsts"

By Barbara Linzy '55

This is a year of "firsts" for Lolita P. Dinosa, 27-year-old citizen of the Republic of the Philippines. It marks Lolita's first visit to the United States, her first year of graduate study, her first year in an American College, and her first year as camp counselor for the American Girl Scouts.

Lolita came to the United States in January, and enrolled for graduate study at Woman's College on February 1. She is working on her Master's Degree in Education until she returns to her home in the Pacific in February of 1956. A graduate of the University of the Philippines, she has taught physical education and health at J. K. Jackson High School in Olangapo, Zambales, for the past five years.

Her study here is made possible by the Greensboro Rotary Club.

Lolita has nothing but praise for her new home. She loves the freedom and activity which pervades the campus, and finds her work extremely interesting. She admits that she was homesick at first, but hastens to add, "Everyone has been so friendly and helpful. I feel right at home now."

Back in the Philippines, Lolita has quite a family—two brothers and four sisters. And the pride with which she speaks of them is well warranted; for five of them are college graduates, and the sixth, a younger brother, is now in medical school.

Lolita's interests are varied, but sports are her particular love. Her interest in basketball is a carry-over from her undergraduate days when she gained the distinction of being elected captain of the first women's basketball team at the University of the Philippines. However, Lolita finds women's basketball quite different here. In the Philippines women play by men's rules, and the game is fast and rough.

During the summer months Lolita plans to work with the American Girl Scouting program as counselor for a camp in New York State. She has had experience with Girl Scouting in the Philippines and feels that the summer will be not only enjoyable, but worthwhile.

This is a year of "firsts" for Lolita P. Dinosa, and Lolita is a "first" for W.C., the first Filipino student ever to study at the Woman's College.

the nominating committee followed. Virginia Bell Cooper '23, president, and Louise (Prescott) Little '32, vice-president, both of Ayrton, will serve for the coming year. They will appoint a secretary. Nettie (Brogden) Herring '08 was asked to send a telegram of congratulations from the group to the college on October 5, Founder's Day.

Rowan

Lucile (Proctor) Norvell '44 was elected chairman of the Rowan County Chapter at the annual meeting held Nov. 1 in the meeting room of the Rowan Public Library. Other officers for the coming year include Billie (Nifong) Albright '44, vice-chairman; Mrs. Glenn Kizer, secretary; Jone (Eddy) Biggers '51, treasurer.

The slate of officers was presented by Junieto (Kessler) Henry '20, chairman of the nominating committee and accepted unanimously.

Virginia Jenkins of '11 was in charge of the program which consisted of a panel discussion of Woman's College through the year. She gave an account of her days as a student at WC, after which the four panel members presented their impressions of their particular periods at school.

Jane (Kernode) Henderson '09 covered the early years of the college; Aleine (Lyerly) Kirchin '32, the depression years; Betty Ann (Rasch) Stenbeck '46, the war years; and Jone (Eddy) Biggers '51, the new Woman's College. The program was followed by a period of general reminiscence.

Doris (Turner) Alexander '47, chairman, presided at the meeting and gave the well come, after which Emma (Speight) Morris '03 gave the devotional.

Mrs. Morris was presented with a corsage in the school colors in appreciation for her service to the group and the community by Juanita Henry.

Wake

Mr. Lynn Nisbet, news correspondent, was the guest speaker when the Alumnae of Wake County met November 30, in the Fellowship Center of the Fairmont Methodist Church in Raleigh. Libby (Boss) Beard '47, president, and after the singing of the College Song, Maxine Garner '39 gave the devotional. Approximately 40 alumnae were served a delicious dinner by the ladies of the church.

Concerning our $100 Scholarship Fund, Dixie (Holemon) King '47 gave a report of the Wake County girl who was the latest recipient and a recent graduate of Woman's College. We were pleased to hear of the outstanding record she had made at the College and to learn that she is now doing graduate work under a Fellowship which she was awarded.

Sarah (Denny) Williamson '49 announced that Christmas cards, ribbon, wrapping paper, and cook books would be on sale at the close of the meeting, proceeds going to the Scholarship Fund.

Dr. Key L. Barkley, who was formerly at Woman's College and now in the Psychology Department at N. C. State College was a guest and spoke a few words of greeting.

The guest speaker of the evening, Mr. Nisbet, was introduced by Frances (Newson) Miller '42. He made a very informative talk about the coming General Assembly and the knotty problems facing it, especially the problem of balancing the budget and probably tax increases. He made us appreciate more fully the problems facing those who have charge of balancing the budget and also paid tribute to the late Governor Umstead and his tireless efforts in working with the budget commission.

Washington, D. C., October Meeting

The fall meeting of the Washington Alumnae Chapter was held at 6:30 p.m., Oct. 28, in the Y.W.C.A. with 39 persons present. After a brief welcome by Frances (Hampton) Goodridge '30, chapter president, the blessing was given by Helen (Williams) Shumate '41.

Following dinner, Billie (Howard) Dickinson '42 read I Corinthians: 13, Dr. McIver's favorite passage in recognition of Founder's Day. Mrs. Goodridge then presented Ruth (Kernode) McDonald '17 who gave a very inspiring talk about her trip to Europe this past spring. Mrs. McDonald had gone to St. James Cemetery to visit the grave of her son who had died in Normandy during World War II.

After a brief discussion regarding the type of meetings to be held in the future, motion was made by Mrs. McDonald that the next meeting be held after dinner with light refreshments. At our spring meeting we hope to have a speaker from the College.

Mrs. Goodridge announced that we plan to have a tea at Christmas for Washington students currently attending the College.

A motion made by Billie Dickinson was passed that we establish a scholarship fund, and the president was asked to appoint a committee to work out details.

Mrs. McDonald spoke about the Associated Alumnae Group in Washington, an organization made up of alumnae representing 45 accredited colleges. They hold an annual college night and also serve their members with information on fund raising projects, places to hold meetings, etc. They have yearly dues of $5. Their only requirement which we have not met recently is that the Alumnae group must hold one meeting a year. Mrs. McDonald then moved that these present authorize us to apply for membership. This was passed unanimously.

The meeting was then adjourned by Mrs. Goodridge.

Marian Sifford '53, assistant to the dean of students at the College, showed two movies which depicted life on the campus as well as views of new buildings. She commented on various scenes and also answered questions about changes at the College.

Thirty-two members attended the meeting, representing classes from 1913 to 1953. Ann (Linville) Bailey '51 Secretary

Alumna Receives Study Grant

Margaret Johnston '33, librarian of Haywood County, Waynesville, was among 133 adult leaders in the United States given study grants by the Fund for Adult Education last year.

"Of the group 12 were librarians and the others were community leaders, Y.W.C.A. and Y.M.C.A. directors, college professors, extension people, leaders in civic groups, League of Women Voters representatives, and teachers.

"I spent three months studying adult education activities in Libraries throughout the country, observing all kinds of adult groups and the various techniques used in their programs. During the tour, I studied in Cleveland and Akron, Ohio; Denver, Fort Collins, Midvale, Utah; Long Beach and San Bernardino, California; Phoenix, Arizona; University of Maryland Department of Library Extension and Enact Pratt Library, Baltimore; Public Library, Library of Congress, Department of Agriculture Library and the National Archives in Washington, D. C.

"Of particular interest to me were the many and varied types of discussion groups, the adult education councils work with older people, the use of films, records, radio and television, and the program planners institutes for community club leaders.

"Along the way I saw a number of WC Alumnae. At Colorado Springs I spent a wonderful weekend with Margaret (Walters) O'Rourke '33 and her family. In Baltimore I discovered Sara Seagle '33, Army Librarian, living in the Apartment Hotel where I was staying. I saw Mae Graham '25 and we forgot libraries long enough to watch the Kentucky Derby on TV.

"At Washington, Bella E. Shachtman '33, showed me the Department of Agriculture Library and Washington at night. As a climax I shared a room at the American Library Association Meeting in Minneapolis in June with Charlessanna Fox '30 and Barbara Mae (Eaker) Heaffner '31.

"It was to me an opportunity of a lifetime and I wish others could have a similar experience."

1st grade certificate. We have 5 lovely children—4 girls and 1 son—7 granddaughters. Four of our children have diplomas from Woman's college. Our second daughter married her second year in college. My year of the Old Normal while Dr. McIver was president, was a wonderful year."

Maude F. Rogers of '09 who retired from active teaching in 1951 is doing "follow-up work" with the alumni of her Cooperative Class of Durham High School which she organized in 1917. With housekeeping, tutoring, church work, and club organizations, she says her days are "full to running over."

Everlasting President
Mrs. James R. Young
(Annie McIver)
705 Dover Rd.,
Greensboro, N. C.

Mary E. Coffey since 1929 has divided her time between Lenoir, North Carolina and Enid, Oklahoma. She wrote recently from Oklahoma: "I am looking forward to our class reunion next commencement. A grand-niece, Frances Green, will graduate then. Her mother, Frances (Coffey) Green '25 and aunt, Nattie Coffey '20 expect to be there."

Claude Poindexter, Winston-Salem: "Each year, at least, I set myself up to a nice trip. Last fall I toured northern New York and New England as far as the Lighthouse in Portland, Me., and back to the great city across Massachusetts and Connecticut. The year before there was Gettysburg, the Pennsylvania Dutch country, Richmond and Williamsburg by private motor. This year there were eight lovely days at the Dennis Hotel in Atlantic City and two days in Washington, D. C., on one of which I entered the Jefferson Memorial (which I had passed a number of times) and was inspired by that majestic figure in the center—looking Southward! Whither next? I wonder . . ."

Everlasting President
Mrs. J. R. Bennett
(Josie Daub)
126 Harris Street
Rocky Mount, N. C.

Irma Ellis, Cary, taught 42 years in the first grade there. Two winters and three summers she taught in the Training School at Cullowhee. "In 1950 I retired from active school work but have coached children who had not learned to read in the lower grades. I love to work with boys and girls and they love me. I am well, active, and happy."

Margaret Horsfield, Lexington, Ky., "Last summer, on a boat on a fjord of Norway, I met Dr. Collings and Miss Ingraham of the College. We knew many people in common, and it was good to get first hand news. Our respective tours had somewhat the same itinerary, so I enjoyed meeting them again in Stockholm, Copenhagen, and Amsterdam. I discovered that Spain is a must in European travel, and that the ideal way to cross the ocean is by air."

TV is Given to Marjorie Craig by Class of '19

Marjorie Craig '19, everlasting president of the class of 1919 was presented a television set in November by her classmates.

"It is a lovely R.C.A. Victor model, which can turn an and off by remote control. It has already given me much pleasure, and will long continue to do so. It's chief value, though, lies in the fact that my dear friends gave it," wrote Marjorie.

Although a victim of arthritis for many years, Marjorie continued to teach English and do much writing. She retired from her teaching at Brevard College in 1953 and since then has been living at their home in Reidsville with her sister, Jean.

The inspiration of the TV gift was Adelaide Von Noppen Howard's but Annie Lee Stafford Greenfield, Alma Hedrick Crowell, and Katy Price Oliver all helped. Writing about the visit to Marjorie when the gift was presented, Annie Lee said, "Kenneth, my husband, drove me over to Reidsville and Katy and her son, who is a photographer, were there with Marjorie and Jean."

"Everything was festive and Marjorie was just radiant. Her conversation with each one was stimulating. Everything she says transcends her physical handicaps."

"When one of Marjorie's guests asked 'Well, what is this—a birthday, Christmas, or something?' Marjorie replied 'This is Thanksgiving Day.'"

"It was like dropping in for tea with the Emerson's and finding an Alcott, Thoreau or Hawthorne there."

Council and they have over 10,000 Girl Scouts now.

"The children are growing up. Laura is teaching riding lessons using her own horses. Jim is now driving the tractor. He also drives the jeep in fields and farm roads."

Sue Ramsey spent a few days at Alumnae House in February while attending a regional institute of Girl Scouts in Greensboro, presiding at the opening session before the institute.

Laura Wiley Lewis received a Master of Fine Arts degree at Woman's College in June 1954.

Mabel (Smith) Draper has lived in Boykins, Va. for almost twenty years. She works for the town as secretary and clerk since the death of her husband in 1947. All three of her children are married and there are five grandchildren. She finds time for church work, the Woman's Club, and the Eastern Star.

Louise (Davis) Thomson, Goldsboro, has three children: Faison, Jr., at Goldsboro, who practices law with his father; Libba McClure, a widow, who also lives in Goldsboro; and another married daughter in Elizabeth City. She has three grandsons.

Mary (Gaston) Hoover lives in Lenoir at 328 South Mulberry St.

Morie (Hodges) Buffum writes that she has two grandsons and two granddaughters. Since losing her husband about thirteen years ago, she has continued to live in her home in Washington, N. C.

Louise (Howell) Snell lives in Richmond, Va., where her husband is director of the Community Chest and Council.

Mommie (Leeper) Burnette of Belmont, says that she lives alone, after losing her husband, mother, and son. Her time is filled, however, with the activities of school and church work. Summer before last she went on a tour to New England and Canada.

Rebecca Symmes, New Rochell, N. Y., says she often sees Belle (Bullock) Irie, '18 and Marie (Bonitz) Dorris, '22. The latter is working at Lord and Taylor's in New York City.

Elizabeth (Thomas) Gamble has moved from Charlotte to Hollandale, Miss., where her husband has accepted a call to a Presbytery church.

Adelaide (van Noppen) Howard, Tuscaloosa, Ala. wrote: "I have gotten several items of interest from former classmates: Margaret Hayes, Ph.D., is a Prof. of Psychology in Albany, N. Y. Her hobby is painting, which has brought her some local fame. She had a wonderful trip to Europe this summer, and brought back loads of marvelous toys to her niece's three children. Their father is a grandson of Gen. Lejeune of World War I fame.

Rebecca (Cushin) Robertson writes from Dabie, Montreal, Canada. Her pretty daughter, Josephine, was married June 28, and lives near her mother. Her son is in third year at Canadian Services College in Kingston, Ont., on the football team. He will be in the Canadian Army Engineers when he graduates. Rebecca is now part-time home economics teacher in three schools. She ended her letter "My heels still are black with tar, and my nostrils long for the smell of pine."

"Annie Lee (Stofford) Greenfield keeps busy with church, community, and alumnae doings. Each summer she and her family spend awhile at Beaufort, N. C. in Lucy (Fortune) Daniels' house. Her attractive daughter, Sollie, was at the University of Ala. last week as a member of the debating team from Agnes Scott.

Margorie Craig keeps busy writing poetry. More than 30 publications have printed some of her poetry. The New York Herald Tribune printed one in Sept. I understand that Margorie has just received one of the awards from N. C. Fed. Clubs.

"My family spent our vacation at Atlantic Beach, N. C. where we were joined by son, Donnell, and his wife and baby, Jill. We stayed there, in candlelight, through Hurricane Carol, but left as Edna approached. Our cottage has survived Hazel, we hear. We had a delightful visit from Lena Duncan and Glady's Chadwick, who live in Beaufort, and had a happy time recalling old days at WC. Natalie Coffey, '20 was visiting her brother next door and added another touch of 'good old days.'"

Alma (Winslow) West's information sheet reads: "I have just had my second grandchild and awaiting my third. I have three of my ten children married now. One is living in Durham." At the bottom of this note was added: "Kathleen, 15 years old, took it on herself to write the above—because she was so anxious for me to send you some news concerning myself. Well, I just want to say that I am very proud of my ten children and two grandchildren." Alma lives in Richmond, Va.

THIRTY-FIFTH REUNION JUNE 4, 1955

Everlasting President

Natalie Coffey
711 McCullach Street
Raleigh, N. C.

Mary Winn (Abernathy) Fowlkes, Crewe, Va.: "For the past year and a half my husband and I (no children, we're sorry to say) have been 'doing over' Millbrook, a country place that has been in Bab's family for four generations. Half of Millbrook is over 200 years old; the rest is mere 150. We decided to recondition rather than to restore since we're getting too old to enjoy the rigors of pre-revolutionary living, and I must say we are highly pleased with the accomplishments thus far. We've done only the inside. Come spring we intend to tackle yard and garden.

"Meanwhile, Bab is with the liquidation detachment at Camp Pickett (quite near Millbrook) looking forward to his army retirement in 1955. I am teaching English and Math in the Victoria, Va., High School. Our place is being operated by tenants and bright tobacco is the money crop, but we are beginning to smooch here of beef cattle.

"On week-ends we enjoy our horses and dogs—and tramping through the woods and fields, but any resemblance to the old plantation days is purely imaginary."

Nelle (Fleming) Whitley Ziegler, says that she is "just an average homemaker in a small town. Busy with home, church, and civic affairs."

Gene (Steele) Holt is a Civil Service employee for U. S. Weather Records, Asheville.

Fannie (Carmon) Snipes, Fayetteville, "We had a very busy summer with two commitments to attend and subsequent plans for college and Air Force.

Francis graduated from Fayetteville High and William Carmon, from N. C. State where he received his commission as second lieutenant in Air Force, now stationed at Donaldson Air Force Base near Greenville, S. C.

"Frances is a freshman at Woman's College and can now join her mother in singing 'We raise our voices, let them swell' in the praise of 'Woman's College—she loves it.'"

Mary Alva (Earle) Little is teaching in Salisbury.

Lillie (Keorns) Michael of '23 writes that her daughter, Virginia, is an airline stewardess with the Southern Airline at Memphis, Tenn., and her son, Dr. Charles A. Michael, practices chiropody in Sarasota, Fla.

Ruria (Biggs) Shelton, '25 Red Springs, sends in the news of the following alumnae: Pearl (Knight) Biggs, '23 teaches first grade in the Biscayne Elementary School, Miami. Addie (Biggs) Thompson, '23 is teaching fifth grade at Happy Valley School, Carter County, Tennessee. Mrs. Thompson has two sons—one in the Air Force and one is a senior at State College, Johnson City, Tenn.

Ann Little Mosemore, Wadesboro, "I had a wonderful trip to Europe last summer, visiting ten countries. It was fun meeting W. C. folks so far from home. I met Carolyne McNairy, '25 and Dorothy McNairy, '27 in Copenhagen, Margaret Flintam in Edinburg, Miss Gullander in Florence, and Kathryn England (Department of English) in Norway. I had to tell Miss Gullander that I wished I could remember all the history she tried to teach me. I feel the need of it! Now I have itching feet and want to go back."

Virginia (Terrell) Lathrop keeps busy with many activities. She writes newspaper features, is active in the church, alumnae group, book club and is a member of the Executive Committee of the UNC Board of Trustees. Her son, Terry, is a sophomore at N. C. State College. Her husband, Albert, who is traffic manager of Inka Corp. is recuperating satisfactorily from a heart attack he suffered Christmas Eve.

as if the 'experiment' in Clay County is finally 'paying off'—it was still in the early experimental stage, in 1947, when I was asked to discuss it at Founder's Day at WC.

Estelle (Cockerham) Harper is living at 4632 Village Rd., Long Beach 8, Calif.

Ruth Cordle teaches business education in the Durham High School.

Faith (Johnson) Bunn lives in Clinton where she runs her husband and manages the Rufus King Hotel. There son Dickie is a sophomore at Davidson College. "I am active in church work, Woman's Club and other civic organizations. I am always disappointed not to see much news from the class of '24."

Neolia McCrummen of '24 is teaching the seventh grade in the Vass-Lakeview School.

Evelyn (Mendenhall) Thompson, High Point: "Hurricane Hazel wrecked our beach property at Halden Beach. Our house we lived in and three houses we had for rent were completely destroyed. Only my little gift shop "The Coast" was left. It, and the apartment back of it, were damaged. We were thankful that none of the family was down at the time and we still had a roof over our heads in High Point.

Have three grandchildren. Marietta (Thompson) Wright '48 has two boys 5 and 1 and a girl, 3."

Ethel (Royal) Kesler, Virginia Beach, Va., co-edited the reunion of the class of '24 because "Jane, who is a senior at the College of William and Mary, was being installed as President of the Women's Student Government for this year. She is planning to go to medical school next year."

From the Winston-Salem Journal-Sentinel an interview with Mr. Noland by Annie Lee Singletary '31 reads in part: "And the woman's angle? He told all about the former Mell Efrid who turned out to be the compensation for a flop play in which they both appeared in 1931 on Broadway. He played an office boy in 'Sweet Stranger' who was in love with an office girl, a part played by Mell. The play lasted just five weeks but the pseudo-office romance lasted much longer and they were married two years later.

"They both love the stage, but they are not stage-y. 'What does Mell do? Well, just about anything that the housewives down in Winston-Salem do who have a home and two kids to look after. She cooks; she decorates the house; she gardens a little; she keeps up with the PTA and clubs," he said. And if that's not woman's angle, what is?

"Their two children are Melinda, aged 13 and Jay, 11. And although their father misses them, he admits that they are just normal kids who haven't yet shown any particular bent toward the stage or any other profession."

substitute teaching in Alexandria, Va. She was taught from first grade through high school. This semester she is teaching shop in the eighth grade. Kate (Tucker) Allmond writes: "The twenty-odd years in have been fruitful and happy ones. My husband is in the furniture manufacturing business. He hasn't a chance in this household made up of all women folk. Even the cats and the calves, Tippi, are females! Add to that, then, three daughters, myself, and big Clara, who keeps us well fed and clean and the man of the house soon gives over to anything to keep us happy. Our oldest daughter, Ann Marshall, is back at Woman's College for her second year. Kathryn, thirteen, in the eighth grade; and Margaret, seven, in the third grade. I have managed to get in eleven years teaching in each of the girls a few years. I've enjoyed church work, community affairs, and I will do a stretch of twenty-four years in P.-T.A. before the youngest is through high school. This year I will be in the high school here in Thomasville, teaching history. The courses I completed at WC this summer really aroused my interest for further study. Water, we continue to grow and offer wonderful opportunities to the Allmond girls yet to come—even ten years from now!"

Eloine (Kirschner) Leucks, Red Lion, Pa., "My husband and I drove to Florida in the spring and had a very pleasant vacation. We spent five delightful days in Cuba, sightseeing with friends who left little to be desired.

The husband is from Pennsylvania, married a Cuban girl, and has lived in Cuba for over 35 years. We flew from Miami to Havana and, this being my husband's first plane ride, the trip took on some added glamour! Naturally we visited the W. C. campus on our way home, as we always do when we are in the vicinity!"

Covelle (Lentz) Lund com. '45: "This year we were transferred to Dothan, Ala., the Peanut Capital of the Nation. My husband, Bob, is in charge of the local Universal C.I.T. Credit Corp. office, and I am secretary to the President of the First National Bank."

"At one time cotton was the principal crop here and the boll weevil wiped out the crop one year, and the farmers planted peanuts in a last desperate stand. Surprisingly, the peanuts thrived and became a big money crop here. Now one of the small neighboring towns has a monument of a boll weevil in the town square in appreciation of its directing them to peanuts."

Billie Moy (New) Carrall, Gastonia, feels that she has done her bit for the future of Women's College, being the mother of Ann 6, Susan 3 and Nancy 1.

Dianne (Page) Bench, Arlington, Va.: "Had a real N. reunion on Monday night. Recently Carol (Bitt) Nielson had a cocktail party and Jeanne (Newbold) Griffin and her husband were there. We are already lining our husbands up as sitters so we can take in the reunion this spring (Hope all our '45'ers are making similar plans). Then went to a cocktail party Carolyn Bason '43 was having for Nell Morrison '47 who married Fred Newsom, in an hour. Also saw Dee Covington '47 and Julia Alexander '47 and Nancy (Jackson) West '44 there. It was all wonderful fun and my Missouri husband was completely baffled by it all."

"Christmas cards this year have seemed to double as birth announcements—Piggie (Butler) Phillips and Laurene (Renfrow) Horn both have new boys and Eva Allen (Trovis) Little and Beatsie (Webb) Smith '47 have daughters."

"Have also renewed correspondence with my freshman roommate, Cloire Martin of '45. Her first husband was in the Navy and she died when his ship was sunk off Korea. She has since remarried, lives in California, and has a little boy."

"Life here in D. C. is quite a whirl, what with four boys, no help, and quite a bit of socializing. We love it though and are constantly seeing old friends. Saw Betty (Morrison) Cannally '44 at the pool at the Army-Navy club this summer one day. She has two very cute boys."

"Best wishes to all for '55—looking forward to seeing loads of old friends at our 10th reunion."

Sara Katherine Jordan '51 to George James Wilds III, Sept. 11, 1954, Saint John's Episco-

Shown above are Capt. and Mrs. George Isley, Jr. (Anne Grier '51) who were married in Landshut, Germany, December 31, 1954.

"I was married on December 31, in Landshut, to Capt. George H. Isley, Jr., former Burlington man now of Savannah, Ga. I worked with Special Services until the 20th of December; then I really went to work on the wedding. Having a wedding in Europe was not as simple as I had thought. We had to have a German ceremony (with much paper work) and the American church ceremony. But all went well (no sobers fell on us or tanks ran over us!) and I am now a married woman.

"We live in Landshut in a very nice, new apartment building. There are many nice young couples here (and lots of kids and dogs!).

"We went to Austria skiing on the honeymoon. Lovely country, lots of fun, and our only mishap was nothing more serious than a good spill that tore George's ski pants! Just a little drafty!

"We will be in Europe for two more years. Then maybe an East Coast tour so we'll be close to good ole North Carolina—we hope.

"Enjoy getting news from WC and reading about all the changes taking place. Have run into a couple of WC girls here. Saw JoAnne McLean '51 in Munich (at the opera) last summer. She was on her way to England. Marion Hunter '47 was teaching near here last year. Also saw her in Munich. Then my sister, Allene Grier '45 visited me in the fall of '54. "This Army Wife business is a very busy life but lots of fun—and I was lucky enough to get a man that's a good cook so I'm thriving on it and so is he."
